Cirencester

Visit

other areas to explore

Cirencester's location at the centre of the Cotswolds makes it the perfect place to explore other delights the region has to offer.

Bibury is a charming Cotswold village near Cirencester, described by William Morris as 'The most beautiful village in England'. Wonderful stone buildings, including Arlington Row, edge the banks of the River Coln. Continue onwards to see the delights of the beautiful historic market town of Burford, the towns of Northleach and Fairford with their impressive wool churches, or lovely Lechlade on the River Thames.

Visit Tetbury, a picturesque wool market town with royal connections close to Highgrove, the home of HRH Prince of Wales and featuring the Highgrove Shop at the town centre. Or see Stroud, set in the Five Valleys and home to many arts and crafts makers.

Also explore Bourton-on-the-Water, the "Venice of Cotswolds", with honey coloured houses connected by attractive little bridges, crossing the gently flowing River Windrush and the lovely town of Stow-on-the-Wold.

about Cirencester

Cirencester sits in the very heart of the stunning Cotswold region. Considered the 'Capital of the Cotswolds', it is a town steeped in history. From its origins as an important Roman city, to its rise as a medieval market town, to the beautiful Georgian and Victorian buildings seen today, you can feel the town's heritage everywhere you go. But it's not all about the past! Modern Cirencester is a vibrant and enjoyable destination with galleries, wonderful cafés, pubs and restaurants, live music venues, theatre, and a wealth of independent shops. Explore the town itself and take in the alleyways and courtyards, the beautiful church or one of our stunning public parks.

There really is something for everyone. The central location of the town is the perfect base for those wishing to explore the Cotswolds and is situated just 20 minutes from the M5 and M4.

Pop into the Cirencester Visitor Information Centre at the Corinium Museum for more information about the town walks around the town

Cirencester is a great place to explore on foot. Follow the brass plaques of the Cirencester Civic Society town walk, or discover the Corinium Museum's Roman and Medieval town trails. Follow the Cirencester Hare Festival Way, a 2.5 hour route marked by large beautifully decorated hares. Starting at Watermoor and ending at Thomas Street, the route follows the River Churn and connects the town's green spaces and secret places. Cirencester is also the perfect place from which to discover surrounding areas, such as Stratton or the Cotswold Waterpark, and lies on the routes for both the Monarch's Way and the Roman Way.

The Cirencester Civic Society offer guided walks at 3pm on Sundays from April to October, meeting at the St John Baptist Parish Church in the Market Place. From mid-July to the end of August, guided walks are also offered on Wednesdays and Saturdays at 3pm. For more information, maps, trails and advice visit the Cirencester Visitor Information Centre.

6 key things to see & do in Cirencester

- 1 Visit the world-class family friendly Corinium Museum and Visitor Information Centre to learn about the town's fascinating history. It is also a great chance to get information and advice on Cirencester and the Cotswolds in general.
- 2 Take in the stunning Church of St. John Baptist for a real taste of medieval history and you may even be able to climb the tower! You can also visit the picturesque Abbey Grounds behind the church for a walk or picnic.
- 3 Indulge in some retail therapy in one of Cirencester's many independent retailers. A paradise for shoppers looking for a change from the uniformity of the high street.

events & festivals

The town has a vibrant schedule of events throughout the year. In early July, the Cotswold Show and Food Festival brings together the varied aspects of life in the region in a two day spectacular. The Phoenix Festival in late August showcases amazing local musical talent spread over three stages, alongside a host of other wonderful activities for all the family.

There are many other events to be enjoyed, such as the annual Hare Festival, heritage open days, beer festivals, sporting and cycling events, arts events, an organ festival, bands in the park and at the end of the year the Advent Festival. Whenever you visit, there is always something to enjoy.

independent shops

Shopping in Cirencester, with its wonderful variety of quality shops, is a delight. Enjoy exploring the courtyards with their individual style, and the many historic streets radiating from the town centre. Cirencester is renowned for its very special shops, individual boutiques, fascinating antique emporiums and craft shops, as well as national chain stores. If you enjoy peaceful and pleasant surroundings as you shop, then venture off the main streets and make a point of visiting the Swan Yard and then meander through to the Old Post Office development. Other hidden gems include The Woolmarket situated off Dyer Street and Stable Yard, accessed via the delightful Black Jack Street.

The beautifully renovated Cirencester Market Place in the centre of town, is home to the Charter Market every Monday and Friday, one of the oldest in the country. There is also a Farmers' Market on the 2nd and 4th Saturdays and an Arts and Craft Market on the 1st Saturday of every month. Cirencester's markets feature a wonderful array of stalls which include crafts, luxury items, local produce, quirky keepsakes and much more. Look out for other special markets throughout the year.

The Corn Hall, which can be reached from the Market Place, is home to some amazing markets, which include a Home, Fashion & Garden Bazaar from Monday to Thursday, an Antiques and Collectables Market on Fridays, the Original Craftsman's Market (1st and 3rd Saturdays) and the Cotswold Craft Market (2nd and 4th Saturdays).

galleries and theatres

Cirencester is home to many wonderful galleries, with frequent varied exhibitions taking place throughout the year. New Brewery Arts is the place to come and explore the best of British craft and creativity. Two galleries show inspiring work by artists, makers, craftsmen and designers, and the onsite studios offer a rare opportunity to meet makers and buy beautifully crafted work direct from independent artists. There is also a great shop and café on site and an exciting programme of events.

Why not visit the Temporary Exhibition Gallery at Corinium Museum, which hosts an incredible array of ever changing artistic displays in mixed media, with items often for sale.

The vibrant culture of Cirencester can be experienced at one of the town's wonderful theatre facilities. Take in a musical at the refurbished Barn Theatre on Beeches Road or enjoy the thrill of a murder mystery at the Sundial Theatre on the outskirts of town.

A wide variety of shows and musical events also take place at the Parish Church and numerous other venues around the town. With such variety and quality the avid theatregoer will certainly not be disappointed!

sports and leisure

Cirencester offers plenty of opportunities to keep fit and enjoy the outdoors. Cotswold Leisure Centre on Tetbury Road provides excellent modern facilities, from cross fit to a gentle swim in the pool.

If you enjoy swimming, then be sure to visit our historic Open Air Pool. Built in 1867, it is one of the oldest pools in Britain and is supplied with natural spring water. It is open from mid-May to the start of September.

Why not explore one of the towns many parks. The Abbey Grounds behind the Parish Church in the centre of town includes a lake, wildfowl, trees and greenery creating a lovely space for families to enjoy. Through the gates at the top of Cecily Hill you will find Cirencester Park, part of the Bathurst Estate. Designed by Alexander Pope, it is open to the public for walking and riding. See the Broad Ride, which is laid out for a mile between chestnut trees that edge the woods.

St Michael's Park on Watermoor Road is home to many facilities, including tennis court, mini golf, croquet, boules, children's play areas and BBQ facilities.

There are cycling routes through the town, as the Cotswolds is a wonderful destination for cyclists and walkers alike. For the more adventurous, the Cotswolds Water Park offers sailing, swimming, windsurfing, canoeing and water skiing at the numerous outdoor activity centres. At over forty square miles, the Cotswold Water Park is the United Kingdom's largest man-made lake system and even boasts its own beach!

Why not play a round at the nearby Cirencester Golf Club, or on summer Sundays you can often catch a game of polo at the Cirencester Park Polo Club.

incredible history

Whilst in town, why not discover the amazing archaeology of the Cotswolds at the award-winning Corinium Museum. Trace the story from prehistory to the 19th century, with many treasures from Roman Cirencester, known as Corinium, Roman Britain's second largest city. The museum is an inspiring and interactive experience for everyone, with a fantastic programme of events throughout the year.

Visit Corinium Museum and pick up a "Whereat Trail", a route guide to the Cirencester Amphitheatre, which is free to visit. In Roman times this impressively large oval would have accommodated 8,000 people. The tiered seating and walls are grassed over, protecting one of the best preserved amphitheatres in Britain.

Explore the Abbey Grounds and see the outline of where St Mary's Abbey stood, and in the North East corner, view the remains of the Norman Arch, alongside the Abbey's former trout lake. You can also see a portion of the ancient Roman wall that would have surrounded the town.

St John Baptist in the Market Place is one of the largest parish churches in England and has been a place of Christian worship for well over a thousand years. It is one of the great 'wool' churches of the Cotswolds built from the prosperity of the wool trade. The church has one of the few pre-Reformation pulpits in the county dating from the 15th century. Amongst the many delights, inside is a silver-gilt cup owned by Queen Anne Boleyn. Facing onto the Market Place and built above the church's south porch is the Medieval Town Hall, a historic building refurbished in 2010/11 that is still in use today.

From the first Saturday in May, to first Saturday in October, the Living Memory Historical Association, have a free display of "War-time Life in the Cotswolds", at the Air Raid Shelter and their Home Front Exhibition on Sheep Street.
